

Accord's Angelina makes Top 10 in 24housing Young Leaders

We are delighted to announce that Angelina Lord, Accord's Locality Manager, has made final ten of 24housing's Young Leaders competition!

The list was announced today by 24housing Editor Mark Lawrence, who said that the online vote was a hard-fought battle with over 10,000 votes!

Angelina is now invited to the semi-final on 25th July at the National Housing Federation office in London, where she will have to pitch a five-minute presentation on how, as a young leader, she would shape the future of the sector for the better.

Judges will then pick five people from the ten to go through to the grand finale, being held at the National Housing Federation annual conference in September.

Angelina said:

“I am delighted that I have made the Top 10! I would like to thank everyone across Accord and beyond who voted for me! I am so grateful for their support” it means a great deal to me.”

Good luck with the next stage, Angelina!
