

Accord's Chief Executive talks about strategies to EP Insights

09 October, 2018

Accord Housing Association's Chief Executive, Chris Handy has contributed to the first edition of EP Insights talking about strategy in the social sector.

The publication has been put together by Eastside Primetimers, who provide support to increase the sustainability and effectiveness of charities and social enterprises. EP Insights aims to be a regular new management briefing for social sector leaders.

Strategy 101 is the theme for the first edition of EP Insights to help leaders in not-for-profit organisations develop strategies.

In his interview Chris talks about how "innovation should remain close to the core purpose of the organisation".
